"I think that what makes SAM Labs great is how the products can be used across so many subjects to engage the students in different ways. Ease of use is really important too since it simplifies complex concepts into more easily digestible activities."

Nate Gordon, Bullis School, Potomac, MD

SAM Labs seamlessly connects software and hardware with an intuitive visual, flow-based coding app, including lesson plans tailored for any classroom or ability level. SAM Labs kits are bursting with wireless electronic blocks that each have a personality of their own.
